Declaring Major, Objective, Course Work

Declaring an Academic Objective
The VA requires students to declare an academic objective, (occupational certificate, associate degree, or transfer program) in order to certify your benefits. Only courses that meet the requirements for your academic objective may be certified. The VA will only pay for one major at a time. Changes to your major or academic objective must be reported to our office and you must complete a new Student Educational Plan with the counselor.

Adding/Withdrawing from Classes
You must notify our office of any enrollment changes to your original certification request (adding/dropping classes including section changes) as soon as the change takes place.

Taking Classes Concurrently
It is acceptable to take classes at another college or university. Valley College students must obtain an approval letter (Parent School Letter) from our office.

INC Grades
If you received an INC, you are responsible for notifying the office when the INC is changed to a letter grade.

Repeating Courses
The VA does not pay for successfully completed courses more than once. There are some courses listed in the college catalog that require a specific minimum grade for successful completion of course requirements. These courses may be approved by the VA for repeatability.

Veterans Resource Center (VRC)

The Veterans Resource Center (VRC) at Los Angeles Valley College opened in 2012. In the VRC, we have dedicated staff who are available to help with applying for admission, enrollment, VA benefits, and referral to other services on and off campus. The academic success of each veteran on our campus is our number one priority. In addition to providing services to veterans, we also encourage spouses and dependents to utilize our services as well.

The VRC space is available for veterans on campus to connect and continue engaging with one another. We have space for studying and computers for your use.

The Veterans Resource Center (VRC) is located in the Student Services Building, Mosaic Center, Room 206.
