Introduction
Greetings to all online Political Science students! This welcome letter will introduce you to the terrains of Political Science I: Introduction to US Government course. Please read this entire document carefully. Enrolled students are responsible for all information contained in this document.

Time commitment
When this course is offered as a traditional, face-to-face class, it meets for approximately 3 hours per week. That does not include time spent on the coursework outside of the classroom, such as reading the textbook and writing. Therefore, you should expect to spend the same amount of time for an online class as for a face-to-face class.

Read and follow all directions carefully
This is so crucial for success in an online course. I have found that some students don't do well in my online courses simply because they have failed to read and follow directions. Ensure a good start by reading this document carefully. Throughout the course, make sure to read all directions for the various assignments carefully and read all announcements.

Procrastination...don’t do it!
Do not wait until the last minute to complete the assignments. Just because an assignment is due on a particular day, does not mean that you should wait until that day to work on it. In fact, you should always try to work ahead of the due dates. Excuses for missing deadlines, including technical difficulties and personal problems, will not be accepted.

Stay connected
Every time you log on to Etudes, check the Announcements, your Private Messages and the Discussion Board for new entries.

Technical FAQs and Helpful Tips
Do we have any class meetings on campus? There are no in-person class meetings. The class is 100% online.
Student Participation and Registration. Although there is no "attendance" in an online course if you do not complete at least two of the first three assignments (Introductions, Chapter One Quiz, and Original Post on “Becoming American”) by Sunday, February 10, 2013 at 11 PM you will be considered "inactive" and will be dropped from the course.

If you fail to complete three assignments throughout the semester (quizzes, discussion board posts, discussion board responses or written essays) you will be considered "inactive" and could be dropped from the course.

How do I set up my computer prior to the start of class? LAVC uses an online software program called “Etudes”. Even if you have taken an Etudes class before, you will want to make sure you are using only the required browsers and the correct browser version. Failure to set up your computer properly may result in problems and impede your success in this class.

Below are the steps to ensure you have your computer set up properly for class:

Step 1: To learn how to set up your computer browser, please visit the etudes system requirements link.

Step 2: Go the LAVC Virtual Valley website at http://www.lavc.edu/virtualvalley/index.htm
(a) Click on the “technical information” link on the left and scroll down the page to add the plug-ins according to the instructions.
(b) Click on the link to take the “online learning success tutorial.”
(c) Click on the link and read the FAQ’s.
(d) Click on the “student resources” link, and then click on the “are you ready for online learning” link to take the student skills quiz. Surf around this site to learn more about online learning at LAVC.

Can I use a Mac? Yes, however, you need to use only the recommended browsers/versions or you will experience problems. See above.

Do I need an email address? YES! In order to receive important class information, reminders, and due dates, you need to have your most up-to-date email address listed with our LAVC Admissions and Records office. To check what email address you have listed on the system, go to the online student registration system here.

Where do I login to come to class? The Virtual Valley website has instructions on how to login to the Etudes class system at: http://www.lavc.edu/virtualvalley/loggingonline.htm

It’s also best to bookmark the Etudes site at https://myetudes.org
Note: Your Etudes login information is different from your LAVC user name and password so be careful to follow the login instructions carefully on the LAVC Virtual Valley site.

Once you login, you will see a tab for “my workspace” where you can enter or verify your email address. The Poli Sci 001 class tab will appear approximately one day before the first day of classes.

What if I cannot login or I have technical issues? Visit the Virtual Valley “Help Desk” page at http://www.lavc.edu/virtualvalley/helpdesk.htm where you can call, email, or walk in to get help. If you are unable to login, email me immediately at oregana@lavc.edu

Note: The expectations of students who take an online class are that you know how to use a computer, the Internet, and word processing programs well. Technical problems will not be accepted as an excuse for missed deadlines or any other issues. I do not accept late work unless when the ETUDES system is at fault. I would suggest having a backup computer. The college has computers available, as do public libraries, and private outlets such as Fed-Ex/Kinko’s.

Required Reading

The assigned version of the textbook is the newly published:

However, the prior edition is acceptable:

You can also purchase We The People as an e-book for around half the price of the regular print edition. For more information contact: http://books.wwnorton.com/nortonebooks/.

Please purchase the textbook before the semester begins as work begins on the first day of class (actually a few days prior as the site is opened early for the eager students). Make sure to purchase the correct textbook—check the ISBN number as listed. Not having the textbook is not an acceptable excuse for not doing the work.

A fully developed syllabus will be available on the course website when the course opens a few days before the first official day of the semester.
I look forward to working with you
Best Wishes
