

Error Log

Take a few minutes to brainstorm. In the left column under “Name of Mistake,” write down any reoccurring grammar/mechanics mistakes that you tend to make with your writing. Be as specific as possible. Later on you can fill in the “Grammar Rule and Example” column, which will help you to understand the rule behind the mistake.

Keep this log and continue to add to it when you get feedback on your writing. Increasing your awareness of the types of mistakes you make and how to correct them can help to eliminate mistakes in the future.
