

Meet your Statistics 100 and 101 Ayana Franklin!

I've always lived in LA, and I just transferred from LAVC to attend UCLA. I can't imagine being anywhere else in the world, and I wouldn't have gotten into UCLA if it weren't for the resources at LAVC. I'm an art history major, but I love statistics and helping others understand. Seeing the concepts come together is my favorite part of learning and other people experiencing the same "aha" moment is inspiring. I plan to go into teaching studio arts in the future as well.
