LA VALLEY COLLEGE NAMED A TREE CAMPUS USA BY THE ARBOR DAY FOUNDATION AND TOYOTA FOR THE SECOND YEAR IN A ROW

The First Community College in California and Only College in Los Angeles to receive a 2012 Tree Campus USA distinction

Lincoln, Neb. – The Arbor Day Foundation announced today that Los Angeles Valley College has been named as a Tree Campus USA for the second year in a row.

“Valley College is honored to be the only community college in California, and the only institution of higher learning in the city of Los Angeles to be a Tree Campus USA,” said Dr. A. Susan Carleo, president of Los Angeles Valley College. “This is a unique distinction that demonstrates our college’s ongoing commitment to sustainability and being stewards of the environment.”

Tree Campus USA is a national program created in 2008 to honor colleges and universities for effective campus forest management and for engaging staff and students in conservation goals. Toyota helped launch the program and continues its generous financial support this year.

Los Angeles Valley College achieved the title by meeting Tree Campus USA’s five standards, which include maintaining a tree advisory committee, a campus tree-care plan, dedicated annual expenditures toward trees, an Arbor Day observance and student service-learning projects.

"Students are eager to volunteer in their communities and become better stewards of the environment," said John Rosenow, founder and chief executive of the Arbor Day Foundation. "Participating in Tree Campus USA sets a fine example for other colleges and universities, while helping to create a healthier planet for all of us."

"Toyota is so proud to support a program that we believe has a tremendous impact on both reducing the environmental footprint of a college campus and inspiring college students to become the conservation leaders of the future", said Patricia Salas Pineda, group vice president of National Philanthropy and the Toyota USA Foundation.

The Arbor Day Foundation and Toyota have helped campuses throughout the country plant hundreds of thousands of trees, and Tree Campus USA colleges and universities invested $23 million in campus forest management last year. More information about the program is available at arborday.org/TreeCampusUSA.

LAVC has a longstanding commitment to sustainability and inspiring the next generation to be conservation leaders in their community. The LAVC Urban Forest was established the founding faculty members in the college's Biology department, and today it contains a diverse mixture of more than 1,600 of trees and plants. Valley College uses its urban forest to not only serve as an educational tool, but is part of its college-wide commitment to sustainability. Additional information on LAVC's urban forest is available at www.lavc.edu/revitalizingvalley/urbanforest.html.
