

WHAT IS HUMANITIES?

If you are interested in art, music, literature, and languages, you might consider turning your passion and pursuing a humanities degree. Students learn to examine the common issues, ideas, and themes that run throughout different cultures and throughout human history. As a humanities major, you'll gain the ability to reason critically, communicate effectively, and make connections across broad fields of knowledge.

LAVC DEGREES & CERTIFICATES OFFERED

The Humanities Program is interdisciplinary and involves critical and comparative study of philosophy, religion, literature, and the visual and performing arts across human cultures in different times and places. Students will examine the art, literature, ideas, movements, and individuals that have helped to define values, civilizations, and the human condition. Study of the Humanities provides a solid fundamental preparation for careers in the arts and education. This degree can serve as the basis for further undergraduate education in humanities.

LAVC offers the following degrees and certificates:

- Associate of Arts in Humanities
